6. [ ] Representative Glenard P. Lipscomb, a member of our CIA Subcommittee of House Appropriations, read the memorandum on Sino-Soviet trade and commented that it added nothing to information he already had in his files and he did not understand why it should be classified. The Director glanced at the memorandum and said the classification appeared inappropriate to him. I asked if I could look into it, saying that I assumed there was a problem of source protection. I do not know whether the Director will follow up on this, but I will talk to Representative Lipscomb and perhaps arrange a meeting with one of our economists.
